<https://www.whitehouse.gov/presidential-actions/2025/01/declaring-a-national-energy-emergency/> Subject to Executive Order (EO) 3417, EO 14156, titled “Declaring a National Energy Emergency,” to improve the energy and critical minerals (“energy”) identification, leasing, development, production, and transportation, and to provide a reliable, diversified, growing, and affordable supply of energy for our Tribal Nations Small Agencies and Native American Tribes by making the fullest use of existing authorities, including emergency authorities.

To our Presidential Emergency E.O. will guide you in our ask to re-assign our funding to the emergency services being that the funds were never received of it issuance since 2021, the action requesting is to sign and to apply a line of credit of the 9 billion to our allocation so we can comply to our ground breaking start up for the Mendocino County 20-years plan.

Additionally, see S.615 – A bill to enable Indian tribal governments to provide facilities necessary to carry out essential governmental functions which establishes in the Treasury the Tribal Government Lease Fund. The federal contractor will be applying his OMB Number: OMB-2700-0042-GSA-ERRC-EFFECTIVE DATE-12-16-2016, to apply federal allocated funding from the Treasury of a minimum of 9 billion dollars in helping put a development and construction of this service.

- See H.R. 6148 – Advancing Tribal Parity on Public Land Act
- A bill addressing tribal interests in the disposal and management of public lands.
- This H.R. 6148 states specifically, the bill prohibits the federal government from disposing of public land or National Forest System land unless the Department of the Interior or the Department of Agriculture (USDA) determines, through consultation with any interested Indian tribe, such disposal would not impact the rights and interests of any interested tribe and would not impair access to a reservation.
- See S.245 – Indian Tribal Energy Development and Self Determination Act of 2017. Mike McCarthy Broad Range Energy as a consultant for Agency Tribal Nations of DOE Native American Affairs Utilities Chief Geronimo Thomas Langenderfer,
- Title 1, Public Law 115-325 (12/18/2018) – Indian Tribal Energy Development and Self-Determination Act Amendments of 2017. S.101 – This bill amends the energy policy act of 1992 to direct the Department of the Interior to provide Indian Tribes with tactical assistance in planning their energy assistance programs.

To provide access to Tribal Nations tribes across the United States of America to this Energy Emergency executive order response Refer to: Understanding Tribal Nations Experiences Accessing Federal Grants.

By example Tribal Nations Agency joining Point Reyes Ranch Agricultural and Residential Leases and declaring a National Energy Emergency, it will include Tribal Nations associates as follows:

the federal contractor and Awardee of the Interior and the executive branch of the Health and Human Services Department of Agency Tribal Nations and , Small Agencies and Native American Tribes Transition Sponsor by Tribal Nations Agency to address the national emergency addressed by President Donald Trump of the United States of America to provide the concept of tribal nations provides humanitarian efforts that gives the best preparation in economics to date as we deliver or actions in to Mendocino Indian reservation community tribes one in Laytonville and the other in Yurok Indian reservation, that would apply Subpart K-Economic and community Development 1980.1001 The purpose of this subpart is to give priority to Projects that support implementation of strategic economic development and community development plans on a multi-jurisdictional basis for applications submitted for the programs identified in § 1980.1002. The intent of requiring multijurisdictional planning is to encourage strategic regional development plans because research and practice have proven that leveraging resources and assets can increase the success of economic development strategies within a region. This is especially true for small, rural places that are best positioned to grow when they share resources among multiple jurisdictions. Rural Development seeks to implement this subpart while continuing to support our smallest and most under-resourced areas. Therefore, all applications for the Regional Development Priority (subpart K) will be reviewed based on the requirements of the subpart as well as the unique needs of the applicant. For instance, in applications where only one governing body is applying, the application will be reviewed to see if the entity oversees areas that would meet the definition of multi-jurisdictional. An example of this would be a tribe whose development plan covers a reservation that contains multiple towns or villages like Mendocino Indian Reservation in having 9 districts in multi-jurisdiction. Independently each town or village would be considered one jurisdiction, thus meeting the requirements of multi-jurisdictional. Hemp Plastics that would serve as one of our most prepared assets to bring healthy guidance to our landfills and how we throw away things, and by using, A tribe may also apply with a non-tribal unit, such as a town, county, or state, and each would be considered one unit and thus the application would meet the requirements of multi-jurisdictional.
